The Heralds

For as long as the records recount, the Heralds have been on the run. Chased by an unknown entity, the Heralds jump from galaxy to galaxy as entire star systems vanish in their wake, as if consumed by the blackness of space itself.

Each new galaxy saves their species from extinction for a short time more. While impermanent, the people of the heralds learn to appreciate each new planet they settle, and live in hope of one day finding a place where they can end their journey.

Guide the evacuation from the previous galaxy as rickety refugee ships dare the perilous intergalactic jumps to one of your jump stabilization beacons. Send resources back home to gain benefits from the last vestiges of your crumbling civilization as you prepare to deal with your new neighbours.

The First

Although their once great empire is gone, reduced to nothing but remnants by the ravages of time, the minds of those who chose to live forever still carry on.

The planet Atrozal, hollowed out and brimming in circuitry; where a trillion souls discarded their bodies to be part of the final dream of the ancients.

The First care little for the physical world, yet the arrival of the Heralds spells a threat even their paradise does not escape. Send out massive orbital replicators to find raw materials and convert entire planets into automated refinery worlds and computation hubs. The entire weight of this galaxy must be unified if we hope to stand a chance of surviving.

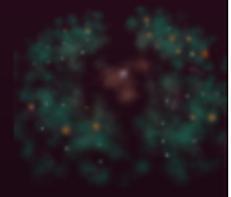

Invasion

Time is of the essence in the new co-operative Invasion map. The waves of invaders trying to destroy your defense lines are becoming ever stronger, and you must push your empire to the limits to avoid your total destruction.

Invasion

Protect the galaxy from an ever stronger invasion force.

Advanced Technology

Research dozens of new technologies, subsystems, and weapons to place on your ship designs. The expanded research web has many new goodies in every corner.

Discover different Secret Project technologies every game which, while difficult to unlock, can give you just that edge you need to best your rivals.

Attitudes

Is your empire a Warmongering siege machine, or are you deviously Scheming to annex planets diplomatically? Are you Progressive in valuing the advancement of technology? Xenophobic in the distrust of your neighbours?

Great Simple Game. Doing nothing spews achievements. Game value? Zero, I guess.. Found all pages\misprint or whatever. Didnt find out what I had to do after that...

way to dark... A cute branching story with a unique art style. I played through all the possible stories and had a wonderful time with it.. Pretty decent top down shooter with a almost galaga feel. There are only two different ships and three different stages (four if you include the bonus stage) which means the game won't take a lot of time to complete, however the game has a lot of replay value which means the limited selection doesn't really take anything away from it.

Also, FIRST!!!!. This Is A Really Good Game

My Review On Youtube: <https://www.youtube.com/watch?v=LHcG7UTdIHU>. This is not as good as Gal Gun Double Peace. Although the graphics is better, the story is not interesting, impact, or touch the feeling like the previous one. Meanwhile, the game system is too simple and not challenge like the previous one. It is not fun like before. It is more erotic but the nudity isn't the best part that make me really like Gal Gun Double Peace. Developers should re-think about "the game system and better story". I'm quite disappointed for sequel. The one who want to play this series, Gal gun Double Peace is really better in my opinion.. after playing this for an hour, i feel both disinterested and ripped off. Priced at 9.99 is a joke. this game is simple an boring. it shouldnt even be on early access. its a sandbox the size of a child sandbox. exploration is nothing but a 2 minute run in any direction. the ai is in its simplest form. water an food degrade way to fast. crafting is a pain without moving the pointer with the mouse to make it easy, must use a wheel. i donot recommend this game unless you want to keep a 4year old busy for a bit of time. in my opinion worse waste of money an time.. Its actually pretty fun... Thank goodness the Nosulus Rift hasnt launched yet... lol

It could use more levels... Its basically a Wave Pooper... but for the price, its pretty decent value...

Here is a video of me trying the game out... <https://www.youtube.com/watch?v=4ZtR6Mj-1-E>. Probably one of the worst "puzzle" game I have played in a long time.

It's very fun, but I find a lot of hackers so maybe add a ban system, besides that it's very fun.. My old ps1 favorite cant beat this game really funn as its just a classic.. Thanks steam for making this buyable im in 2 minds , its definitely not a finished product just yet ,but has lots of potential. The opening scene is non existent just a quick menu and other options. Initially after load up the game froze so that i could not advance just side to side. After the reboot of my system as thats how i had to stop the game it came up with a green screen on my monitor but in vr i could play it. Has a boppy music track , nice tempo which enhances the shooting .Weapons easy to use and very realistic. Looking forward to seeing how you progress with this game.....Not asking for a refund so will recommend it with the hope its fixed down the track. Is a bad maze...not a-maze-ing. I love this game, I just started playing it and can't stop. I love the story and I also love the characters in th game, also I love the funny humor sayings through out the game. I probably would have not tired this game, if it was not on sale. One, being I never heard of it and second I might have not tired it out. But it is very well worth the money and it is even better if it is on sale. This is the best game I brought so far for only 2 bucks. I am very happy. The only thing I really don't like is that there is no mini map. The dungeons are easy to navigate through but in were the princess is, it is a bit confusing on where you have been or not and it does suck that there is no way points to tell you really where to go or start with first. But I guess you just got to read them and pay attention to the people you talk to and what they say and you should be fine. I really recommend the game especially for people who love rpgs. I love rpgs and this one of them I like so far.. A good solid top down shooter.

It's kinda hard, especially at the beginning when if you die you lose the good weapons you've picked up. If you like gams where you press 'A' to win, then you probably won't like this.

There is an option to play on easy. Which is still a challenge.

It's the kinda of game you can play for 15 minutes a day and then get on with your life. A little lunch time buzz to save having to listen to Dave boring everyone with stories about paper.

I woudln't recomment you dedicate you life to this game; just play one or two levels per day.

Tip : When you find the big laser, don't lose it! Always keep it. Vrrooooshhhh = x5 bonus kill.

There is a story, but it's a shooter so don't expect to be gripped. Go here. Go there. Shoot things. A bit like almost all games - but it doesn't hiide it.

7/10 : It's a game. Shoot things. If your a bit feeble of mind/body you probably won't like it.

. very good for free game

. It's highly addictive, quite customizable, fast paced, simple to play, quite hard to master Twin Stick shooter.

Buy it whenever you can
